

Employment Mounts 1 1/4 Million

Ranks of Jobless Shrinking

WASHINGTON — Employment rose by a record 1 1/4 million jobs from early March to early April, and the ranks of the jobless shrank by 200,000 to approximately 2,962,000, the government estimated Friday.

It was the first time this year that unemployment, as measured by the Census Bureau in a monthly sampling survey, had fallen under three millions. The rate of unemployment declined, according to the new estimates, from 5 per cent of the labor force in March to 4.6 per cent in April. A year earlier, unemployment was estimated at 5.4 per cent of the labor force.

Many New Job Seekers

Unemployment did not decline by anything like as much as employment rose because, the report said, many new job seekers entered the labor market during the month.

It said the civilian labor force—the employed and the job seekers—increased during the month by 933,000 to a total of 64,674,000. The new employment seekers were apparently drawn into the labor market by reports of widespread business recovery during the spring.

Despite the brightened employment picture, there were still some 1,110,000 job seekers who had been out of work 15 weeks or more by early April. This compared with 1,062,000 out of a job 15 weeks or more in early March.

Additional Power Lines Authorized

The State Railway Commission authorized the construction of 100 additional miles of electric transmission line by the Southern Nebraska Rural Public Power District, Grand Island. The permission also includes 62.2 miles of reconstructive line.

The new construction will be located in Adams, Hall, Kearney, Phelps, Gosper, and Merrick Counties.

Authorization for additional line construction also was granted to the Omaha Public Power District and the Municipal Light and Power Department of North Platte. The OPD line will be located in Saunders County.

An application for additional construction was received from the Stanton County rural public power district. The application involves 6.4 miles of new line and 17.5 miles of reconstructed line.

Postmasters Ask Higher Rates, Pay

The Nebraska branch of the National League of Postmasters called for increased postal rates and increased pay Friday as they wound up a three-day state convention.

Installed at the final session as president of the group was Mrs. Audrey Babb of Broadwater.

Senior vice president is Joe Brown of Ceresco, and William F. Hoffman of Bladen second vice president. Robert Corn of Papillion membership chairman. Re-elected as secretary-treasurer was Eldon Pittam of Adams.

Capacity Crowd Sees NE Show

A capacity crowd jammed the Northeast High School auditorium to see the first night performance of a talent studded Rocket Revue Friday night.

Snappy music, high kicking chorus lines and faculty antics were displayed in a fast moving show. Interesting acts such as the Mocha Maidens and Princess Bedr-el-Budor provided variety along with a gymnastics group, pantomimes and a can-can.

The Revue opened with a rub of the "Mystic Lamp" and the fanfare of a trumpet trio.

The final show will start at 8 p.m. at the Northeast auditorium Saturday night.

Defendant Wins In Damage Suit

A verdict for the defendant has been returned by a Lancaster District Court jury in a highway accident case.

The plaintiff, Rose Floth of 245 No. 5th, had asked $10,000 damages for alleged injuries received in a two-car collision Jan. 1, 1954, on Highway 6 approximately one mile west of Lincoln.

She alleged the defendant Maynard L. Zimmerman of 2902 Apple had driven from one lane of traffic to another without giving a signal.

Zimmerman, who had been driving a pickup truck, contended the plaintiff had failed to exercise reasonable care considering then existing conditions.

Judge Paul White heard the case.

Officials Talk Over No. 34 Relocation

OMAHA — State Engineer L. N. Ress and representatives of the Burlington Railroad have completed a two-day preliminary discussion here with members of the staff on possible relocation of Highway 34 and railroad track near the Lincoln Air Base.

The relocation will be necessary if the north-south runway at the base is extended 2,000 feet as may be done next fall, the engineers' office said. There is no money appropriated as yet for the extension. If it is made, it would be necessary to relocate 2 1/2 miles of track and the same mileage of No. 34.

The meeting here dealt with preliminary phases of the matter.

ARMY TO DRAFT 10,000 IN JULY

WASHINGTON — The Army Friday issued a draft call for 10,000 men in July, the same quota that was announced earlier for May and June.

The new call brings to 1,918,430 the total number of men drafted or designated for induction since the resumption of Selective Service in September 1950.

Except for 81,430 drafted by the Marine Corps during the buildup for the Korean War, the Army is the only service that has used the draft, or intends to continue to rely on Selective Service, to maintain its manpower strength.

Sewage Digestion Study Scheduled

A study of causes and remedies for the improper digestion of sewage at the Sanitary District 1 disposal plant will be made by Harris Laboratories, Lincoln consulting chemists.

The study will be made by the commission by Sens. Hruska and Curtis and Rep. Chase. Nebraska Republicans, John Merriam, president of Northern Natural Gas Co. of Omaha, which wants to supply the additional gas, and a representative of Allied.

The group met with members of the commission late Friday. They said the extra fuel was needed to expand the fertilizer plant.

Allied plans to double its production but has delayed construction until a supply of natural gas has been assured.

Must Start Soon

"If Allied is to have this production available for next year it must soon start construction," Anderson told the commission. "The company is anxious to have the commission's ruling."

Allied buys gas from the Northern Natural Gas Co. of Omaha. Northern applied to the Power Commission several months ago for authority to expand its daily capacity, including 12 million cubic feet for Allied.

Anderson said Nebraska is primarily an agricultural state. He said more fertilizer is needed and with a plant in LaPlatte, farmers can save money on freight costs.

Anderson also testified Friday before the House and Senate Appropriation and Public Works Subcommittees. He recommended that Congress appropriate all funds requested in the budget for the Missouri River development projects.

"Our state needs the extra power it can get from these dams and also the flood protection," he said.

The governor also conferred with Howard Pyle, White House administrative assistant, about a planned meeting of the 10 governors of Missouri River Basin States in Omaha to consider highway programs.

Baker Bound Over On Rape Charges

OMAHA — David E. Baker, 24, Fremont, Friday was bound over to District Court on a charge of statutory rape after preliminary hearing before County Judge Robert Troyer.

Baker is accused of assaulting a 13-year-old girl near Valley Junction Jan. 4.

Judge Troyer, after reading the transcript of a statement given by Baker to the county attorney's office, declared it was a "shocking case."

The judge set bond at $5,000.

Apparent low bidder for a general contract for the Holmes School addition was Kingery Construction Co. The bid was $181,842.

The contract calls for construction of a 12 classroom addition and kindergarten facilities. The project is to be completed in time for classes at the start of the 1956-57 school year.

Gas Tax Suit Pre-Trial Meet Starts

$3 Million Deposited In Court

By VIRGIL FALLOON
Star Staff Writer

A pre-trial conference in ex-State Treasurer Frank Heintze's gas tax suit against the 93 counties was begun Friday in Lancaster District Court.

District Judge Harry Spencer advised attorneys that the first two weeks in June have been left as court dates with the hope that the pre-trial conferences would pave the way for actual trial of the case by then.

Purpose of a pre-trial conference among suit parties is to determine areas of agreement and make up issues for expediency in actual trial of the case.

$3 Million Deposited

In his ex-rel suit Heintze has deposited nearly $3 million with the court for judicial determination as to distribution in the gas tax controversy.

During the Friday conference, at which 75 counties were represented by counsel, the plaintiff's attorneys introduced for evidence some 33 exhibits.

Four exhibits represented distribution factors, based on census and motor vehicle registration figures, used for the distribution of gas tax funds for 1949, 1950, 1953, and 1954, according to Atty John J. Wilson, representing Heintze.

Other exhibits were said to represent worksheets as to methods and figures used in arriving at the distribution factors for those years.

Exhibits alleged to represent the annual motor vehicle registration reports for the years 1948 through 1953 were presented.

Photostats

Wilson also presented 10 other exhibits as photostats of public records showing the breakdown in the monthly distribution to counties of the mail route money for 1950 through 1954, except for the last three months in 1954 when the gas tax receipts were paid into court, and similarly for the diesel fuel tax, more correctly known as an equalization fee, for those years.

Defense attorneys said they wanted time to examine the records before agreement could be reached on the exhibits.

Lancaster Co. Atty. Elmer Scheele said "We want opportunity to have our auditor examine these records before we agree as to what these exhibits show."

Atty. Wilson said he understood Lancaster, Douglas and Sarpy Counties had made an independent audit of the gas tax records and urged the court to make these audits available as trial exhibits. Action on request was deferred until next Friday's conference.

Agreement was reached on the 1940 U.S. Census exhibit, but none was reached as to those on the 1950 census, which is indicated as a key issue in the case.

Census Exhibits

Asst. Atty. Gen. Bert Overcash introduced five exhibits as to the 1950 U.S. Census, and their dates of release. Three were presented as partial reports, released Nov. 26, 1951; Sept. 4, 1952, and June 16, 1953. These reports were compiled as a single report issued Aug. 23, 1953.

The fifth exhibit was the 1950 census issued in book-form and released on Dec. 8, 1953.

The defense introduced a 1950 census report for Nebraska that was released by the U.S. Bureau of Census on July 8, 1951 and also a 1930 census publication released Aug. 11, 1951.

Both Douglas and Lancaster Counties, who have suits pending against Heintze and his two bonding companies, have alleged that 1950 census figures were available as early as August 12, 1951. Heintze admitted he did not change from 1940 to 1950 census figures in the gas tax distribution formula until October, 1953.

The Issue

Indicated issues in the cases are as to when 1950 census figures became available and which represents the latest census figures that the state treasurer's office should have used in the formula.

Of the 75 counties represented by counsel at the pre-trial conference Friday, 64 were represented by Atty. Guy Chambers of Lincoln.

In the Douglas County suits against Heintze and his two bonding companies, the defendants have asked the court to stay trial until after disposition of Heintze's suit against the 93 counties.

Arguments on this application for a stay will be argued next Friday, when the pre-trial conference in Heintze's suit is resumed.

Distribution Of Gas Tax Funds Begins

The first distribution of state gas tax money to the counties under the Burney formula passed by the current session of the Legislature was made Friday by State Treasurer Ralph W. Hill.

A bill introduced by speaker Dwight Burney of Hartington and passed by the unicameral over strenuous objections by Omaha legislators cuts the share of the more populous counties and increases the portion for the smaller ones.

Friday's distribution of April gas tax revenue to the counties amounted to $1,003,807.70, including $602,284.67 in regular gas tax money and $401,523.11 specifically earmarked for graveling of rural mail routes.

The old method of distributing the funds employed a formula based upon motor vehicle registrations and the latest available census figures. Burney replaced the formula with a list of arbitrary percentages for each of the state's 93 counties.

Burney called his method a compromise between 1940 and 1950 census figures. Senators representing smaller counties had sought a return to the 1940 figures.

Hill said Friday, however, the new distribution is pretty close to the 1940 figures. He added that some of the smaller counties do receive a greater share under the new system.

The total April gas tax collection was $2,475,076.15 with $88,254.83 of special fuel added to it. The state's share with all money going into the road fund, was $1,405,398.

Regular gas tax distribution to counties included:

Adams, $11,563.87; Buffalo, $11,402.49; Cheyenne, $11,563.34; Custer, $11,684.71; Dodge, $45,577.36; Dawson, $3,696.78; Dodge, $11,443.40; Douglas, $63,239.89; Gage, $13,491.18; Hall, $12,949.12; Jefferson, $10,660.44; Lincoln, $12,407.06; Madison, $10,660.44; Platte, $9,997.93; Red Willow, $5,661.48; Scotts Bluff, $1,261.69; York, $7,709.24.

Rural mail route distribution to counties included:

Adams, $7,709.24; Buffalo, $7,468.33; Cheyenne, $4,978.83; Custer, $7,789.55; Dawson, $3,051.57; Dawson, $6,461.52; Dodge, $7,656.94; Dodge, $42,559.55; Jefferson, $4,094.12; Hall, $8,632.75; Lancaster, $4,737.97; Keith, $2,931.12; Lancaster, $22,083.77; Lincoln, $5,271.38; Madison, $7,109.56; Platte, $8,665.28; Red Willow, $2,774.32; Scotts Bluff, $10,841.12; and York, $4,978.83.

Here And There

A reader called on the phone to remind us that we will have to wait until June 6 of 1966 before the same figure combination in dating letters or papers puts in an appearance again. He referred, of course, to the fifth day of the fifth month of 1955—or "5-5-55." Eleven years ago it was "4-4-4." And eleven years hence it will be "6-6-6."

Scanning the news columns, a brief story brought us up with a jerk. It revealed that the famed United States First Infantry Division began moving home after nearly 13 years of fighting and occupation duties in Africa and Europe. There may be more colorful records than the Fighting First brings home with it but if there are, the fact has not come to public attention. And an unbroken record of 13 years of continuous duty on foreign soil is something unique in the military history of the United States. If the division as presently constituted contains any sizeable number of men who saw service throughout all of its stay abroad, then they by common consent occupy an extraordinary military status.

The action of the House Thursday in passing a bill to junk the Eisenhower flexible farm price support program, even though approval was by a narrow margin, is a portent of things to come. There is little basis for a belief that the Senate will follow the example of the House. The action of the House should convince Secretary Benson that his flexible price support program is not nearly as popular as he would have people believe. It took a lot of city votes to restore rigid high price supports in the House.

Cole's Phantom Ship

Source of the sharp criticism of President Eisenhower's proposal to build an atomic merchant ship is more than a mild surprise.

Rep. Sterling Cole of New York is a hard-working Republican, a man of ability but one who rarely kicks over the traces when it comes to party regularity.

When Rep. Cole told members of the Atomic Energy Commission that the Eisenhower proposal is a "phantom ship," to be built at an estimated cost of $3 million which better might be spent in another fashion, the time had come for raised eyebrows. President Eisenhower tossed his proposal to Congress without previous notice and without opportunity for public study, a technique which he has utilized on several occasions. The proposal that the ship be built to sail the seven seas in a dramatic gesture of peacetime uses of the atom caught the fancy of the American people.

Now it appears on the authority of one member of the Atomic Energy Commission that this agency approved it after only two days consideration. Still another member of the commission said he refrained from voting on the proposal because available information was too incomplete for considered judgment, although he personally favored such a program. Meantime the maritime administrator said he learned of the project only a week before the President made formal announcement of it.

Cole was rather devastating in his questioning and his criticism. He brought out that a maximum of 1,000,000 persons would be able to board the merchant vessel and see it as one of the first-hand examples of peacetime use of atomic energy.

"If half the people of New York are to see the ship," he added, "it would have to spend 10 years tied up in the shadow of the Statue of Liberty."

A most laudable idea as a theory, if that is the case, but slightly impractical.

Lessons To Be Learned

There were inconveniences and some instances of fright when the false "yellow alert" started jerky air raid preparations at various points on the west coast.

It originated, press dispatches say, through a military communications system which was too slow in reporting Air Force bombers winging their way toward home. A Canadian radar point, on constant lookout for unrecognized planes, could do nothing else but play keeps when it detected on its screen the unidentified bombers. That started the alert which spread

Of Men And Things

By J. E. LAWRENCE

Any lingering doubts about the attitude of the Nebraska Unicameral Legislature with respect to a broadened tax base should have been dispelled by the vote on LB 510, a proposal for a combined sales and income tax program. It was put to sleep by the decisive vote of 28 to 12 after spirited debate.

There is the possibility that a single proposal for a moderate sales tax might have fared better. Or if in the search for more revenue the advocates of a broadened tax base had seen fit to be content with a modest state income tax, they might have picked up recruits. But to ask Nebraskans to gulp down a sales tax and a state income tax in one swallow was expecting entirely too much.

It was simply not in the cards. Nor was the news from neighboring Iowa, where a two-house legislature completed its labors last Saturday with all-time record appropriations necessitating boosts both in Iowa sales tax law and its state income tax law, helpful to advocates of a broadened tax base here. Unless constitutionally there can be some limitation—some ceiling—to the amount of tax revenue to be raised by way of increase in any single biennium, an economy-minded people may conclude it is the course of wisdom to rely permanently upon levies on real and personal property. Few states do, but in all frankness it must be admitted that resort to sales and income tax levies in the states which have them both has failed to solve the mounting problems of increased governmental expenditures.

The outcome brings Nebraska to grips with one conclusion which may be most unwelcome. If the state's dependence for revenue with which to operate is to be confined to levies upon property, real and personal, then sooner or later a ceiling upon appropriations becomes unavoidable. Real and personal property already are bearing heavy burdens. They simply cannot continue to mount year after year.

Good, hard, common sense came to the rescue of the Nebraska Unicameral in another matter with which it had been toying. By a vote of 21 to 19, a close division, the Unicameral Thursday killed a proposal which would have submitted a constitutional amendment to a vote of the people. It was a measure to abolish the Board of Control, a step that has picked up some support in recent months because of troubles at the Nebraska Penitentiary. There is nothing wrong with the Board of Control plan, establishing a non-partisan board to supervise Nebraska's wards housed in its institutions, which care in the choice of personnel comprising the membership of that board will not cure. Those who seem to think that the Board of Control has outlived its usefulness apparently have forgotten entirely the conditions of state institutions which existed prior to its establishment. The trouble in recent years has been that those responsible for appointment of members to the board have appeared to permit political considerations to sway them entirely too much.

The Board of Control was at its very best in the early years of its existence. It performed a notable service to the people of this state in the development of an institutional program and it can continue to serve no less usefully if the same devoted spirit is reflected in the selection of those who comprise the board. That particular job is one in which partisanship in politics should be the last consideration.

Cats May Roam

(From the St. Louis Post-Dispatch)

Gov. McKeldin of Maryland has done his duty by cats. He has vetoed a bill for the "control, regulation and restraint of cats running at large."

In taking the line that "the cat prefers the gentle cover of the night, both for romance and pursuit of prey," Gov. McKeldin follows the illustrious example of Adlai Stevenson. In 1949, when he was Governor of Illinois, Gov. Stevenson vetoed an anti-cat bill sponsored by Friends of the Bird, Inc.

Ever aware of precedent, fine legal mind that he is, Mr. Stevenson inquired: "Who knows but what we may be called upon to take sides as well in the age-old problems of dog vs. cat, bird vs. bird (Editor's Note: Aha, there, Friends of the Birds, Inc.) or even bird vs. worm?"

It is not only inhumane to frustrate a cat, it may also be dangerous. A cat named Charcoal locked a Chicago family out of the bathroom after being placed there for punishment. A Los Angeles cat by the name of Sally nearly drove a neighbor to desperation by ringing his doorbell at frequent intervals for weeks. Did it by standing on the porch bench, he finally discovered. And one of our own local cats which got its tail caught in the belt of a washing machine blew out a fuse.

That's why we say: Better not monkey with the full and free peregrination of cats. Or they may make a monkey out of you.

GOP Governors Do Not Want Nixon

WASHINGTON — Top Republican governors in Washington this week rebelled privately but vigorously against the idea of accepting vice President Nixon as the GOP candidate if Ike doesn't run.

Informed that the President had been trying to sell "his boy Dick," GOP governors threw up their hands. They remembered the all too recent Gallup poll showing Kennedy running far ahead of Nixon in a test presidential heat. And no matter how much Ike likes Dick, GOP politicos are making it clear they don't like Dick themselves.

It was to sell Nixon that Ike bowed out of the proposed trip to San Francisco for the 10th anniversary of the United Nations. The excuse Eisenhower gave was that his schedule was too crowded. When San Franciscans checked his schedule, however, they found it was not crowded, but that Ike was just pushing Nixon to the fore instead.

Note — Simultaneous word from the White House continues to be that Ike just doesn't want to run and that it will take more than a team of horses to pull him into the race.

DORIS FLEESON

Harriman Hits At Democratic Inertia

WASHINGTON—"I don't know about you fellows but in New York we need a national government, not a royal family," Averell Harriman told his fellow-Democratic governors here. "We just can't afford a Republican in the White House."

Harriman was strongly backed by Carmine De Sopio, New York national committeeman.

"You're getting a Madison Avenue job done on you," he warned.

"You've got to go after this great white father myth and pin responsibility directly on the President. He's the leader and he campaigned on the premise that leaders are responsible for the acts of their subordinates and their party."

De Sopio also said bluntly what the governors to a man believe: "No Democrat would play coy or have to be drafted for the presidency. For one thing, we got to be free to attack Eisenhower for making out it's such a sacrifice to be in the White House."

The warning to Adlai Stevenson, now on a business trip to Africa, is clear. The fact is that Stevenson wants the nomination but being an intellectual, once he had discovered himself well in the lead, he has begun debating both sides of the question again.

One accidental alert did more to emphasize our lagging civilian defense readiness than all of the speeches and publicity of the past. We know now that if a raid should come, the Air Force will be on the job. But we know also that if it is not totally effective, we civilians are going to be in a bad way, thanks to our own indifference.

Since it is as natural as breathing for governors of pivotal states to see themselves leading a cabinet procession into the East room of the White House, they are not patient with Stevenson. Gov. Williams of Michigan also aired his view that the Democrats had plenty of candidates.

On the whole the governors kept under control their restiveness over the tendency here to consider the President invincible. Their tempers were not improved by having to watch Gov. Allan Shivers have his cake and eat it too. Shivers carried Texas into the Ike column in 1952 and tells reporters that he still opposes Stevenson.

Former National Chairman Mitchell is probably unwise to raise the issue but he is speaking for a lot of Democrats when he continues to challenge the right of the Eisenhower bolters to come home without even saying sorry. That question inevitably will arise in the convention next year.

National strategists console themselves about the Texas problem by suggesting that Shivers would not be so cozy unless he thought the Democrats were again the winning side. They also mention the land scandals which now plague his administration. But they are whistling in the dark and they know it.

The governors told the senators with whom they breakfasted that the troubles of the family farmers and the three million still unemployed despite general prosperity are the exposed nerves of the administration.

ARCH DONOVAN

In Step With The Sower

On the return of the Nebraska delegation from "Operation Mis-Cue," the planned atomic display at Las Vegas, Nev., Sen. George Hoffmeister, the Imperial physician and rancher, arose to a "point of personal privilege."

Lt. Gov. Charles Warner must have been informed of what was to come, because he answered in an unusual way. Usually Arch Donovan the senator so addressing the chair is invited to state his point.

Mr. Warner, however, responded, "Because this is the first time the senator has made such a request, will he please come forward and explain his personal privilege."

As a boy, the Imperial doctor must have learned and learned well the admonition to be "seen but not heard." It is rare indeed to see his seat in the last row of the assembly vacant. If anything is more rare, probably it is to hear him address the Legislature.

The result is that he has won the profound respect of his fellows because he talks only when he has something to say and on subjects on which he is well informed. When he does speak, everybody listens.

As he advanced to the front of the chamber at the summons of the lieutenant governor, everyone sat erect expecting something profound.

While he couldn't entirely erase the pleasant smile that is always on his face nor the habitual twinkle in his eyes, the doctor solemnly stated that events of the preceding days had reminded him of an incident in his youth which he had been asked to repeat.

He recalled that in those days, the ascension of a free balloon attracted crowds nearly as large, if not quite, as those assembled at the Yucca Flats proving ground. He said that his parents had taken him to view one of the "daredevil exhibitions."

An urgent plea to halt distribution of Salk polio vaccine in the state has been received by Dr. E. A. Rogers, director of health, from a woman in Toronto, Canada.

She protests against the methods used to develop the vaccine which is expected to save the lives of thousands of children.

"It is the most awful, inhumane wickedness to bring poor monkeys from India to save the lives of people," she wrote.

She explains that India has cruel, merciless slaughter of poor trusting monkeys which were used in experiments resulting in the discovery of the Salk vaccine.

A THOUGHT FOR THE SABBATH

Stories Of Famous Hymns

Take Time To Be Holy

Take time to be holy, speak oft with thy Lord;
Abide in Him always, and feed on His Word;
Make friends of God's children,
Help those who are weak,
Forgetting in nothing His blessing to seek.

Take time to be holy, the world rushes on:
Spend much time in secret with Jesus alone;
By looking to Jesus, like Him thou shall be;
Thy friends in thy conduct His likeness shall see.

Take time to be holy, let Him be thy Guide,
And run not before Him, whatever betide;
In joy or in sorrow, still follow the Lord,
And, looking to Jesus, still trust in His Word.

Take time to be holy, be calm in thy soul,
Each thought and each motive beneath His control;

Thus led by His Spirit to fountains of love,
Thou soon shalt be fitted for service above.

By HORACE B. POWELL

A sermon preached one night in England, more than three-quarters of a century ago inspired the theme and title of this hymn of consecration.

The preaching took place at a religious service at Brighton and the man in the pulpit used as his text, "Be ye holy as I am holy." W. D. Longstaff of Sunderland, England, was one of the listeners that night and when the worship was over, the stanzas of "Take Time To Be Holy" began running through his mind.

When the Moody-Sankey evangelistic party went to England, Mr. Longstaff became interested in services held in his home town and in others, and Mr. Sankey who was song leader for all the spiritual meetings was delighted with Mr. Longstaff's song.

He published the hymn in his "Gospel Hymns and Sacred Solos" in 1891, and it was widely used for services in prayer services on both sides of the Atlantic.

School Land Rental Change Is Revived

23-13 Vote Brings Bill Back For Legislative Floor Debate

The Legislature decided Friday to consider the school land rental question.

The vote to raise LB 521, which the Education Committee had killed a few days ago, was 23 to 13.

Supporters of the move would like to see the share-cropping plan tried on an experimental basis. An "animal-unit" formula has been worked out for the grazing land, which constitutes a large part of the 1,600,000 acres of state-owned school land in Nebraska.

Under existing law, the annual rental on state school land is six per cent of the appraised valuation. Leaseholders complain this is too high, and that the formula is inflexible.

Sen. Bixler of Harrison offered the successful motion to raise the bill.

"The state has been a poor landlord," Sen. Beaver of Beemer observed. He said the state is "going to have to do a little experimenting" in order to come up with the right answer.

Sen. Person of Wahoo urged that the new appointive board of educational lands and funds created this year have at least two years to show what it can do with the problem before the Legislature moves in.

Sen. Hoffmeister of Imperial said points to be considered are the drought in western Nebraska, where much of the land is located, and the fact there has been considerable erosion of the soil by wind.

Sen. Shultz of Rogers, who owns farm land, and who leases it on a share basis, declared:

"If I am not willing to take a

Solons Pass Salary Raise For Pansing

A bill that will enable the salary of State Insurance Director Thomas Pansing to be raised to $8,000 per year was passed by a 34 to 2 vote of the Legislature Friday.

Pansing's yearly pay is frozen at $6,500. But the measure enacted by the Senators will transfer the bonding of state officers from the Board of Educational Lands and Funds to the insurance director with Pansing receiving an additional $1,500 for the work involved.

The salary hike will be effective upon the signature of the governor.

The Legislature also gave final approval to the establishment of a School of Veterinary Medicine at the University of Nebraska. But the school will exist on paper only. The step was taken to enable Nebraska veterinary students to attend out-of-state schools at a reduced tuition rate.

A 26 to 12 vote approved a measure liberalizing the statutes governing responsibility of relatives to persons on assistance. It will permit payments by the state in cases where persons are estranged from the relative for 10 years or more.

The list of bills passed Friday: LB 394. Perry, Kotouc. Transferring duties relating to bonding of state officers and employees from Board of Educational Lands and Funds to director of Insurance. (E) 34-2.

LB 128. Klaver, Nelson. Liberalizing relative responsibility to persons on assistance. 26-12.

LB 375. Person, Hoffmeister, Morrison, McGinley. Authorizing establishment of a School of veterinary Medicine and Surgery at the University of Nebraska, 36-2.

Pretty Coeds + Romance + Diamonds = Fiancees

It's spring—the flowers are blooming, the trees are wearing their best green leaves, and there's a song in the hearts of numerous pretty coeds on the University of Nebraska campus where diamond rings on third-finger-left-hands add their brilliance to a sunny May day. With a farewell to classrooms within hailing distance we'll venture a guess that some of the young lovelies and their finances, pictured above, have plans that will involve Mr. Wagner's "Lohengrin and Mr. Mendelssohn's Midsummers Night's Dream" bridal music, before the summer has gone.

But be that as it may, this is today, carefree, happy—a time when the hour of decision has only to do with "where shall we go?" or "what shall we do?"

What to do seems no problem whatever to Miss Betty Kruger of Schuyler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kruger, and Pi Beta Phi—nor to her fiance, Robert

Whatever Miss Barbara Beck, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred E. Beck of Omaha, and Alpha Phi at Nebraska—and her fiance, Don Anderson of Lincoln, Beta Theta Pi, have in mind, it's a dress-up occasion. We arrived just as the attractive Miss Beck opened the door to greet her fiance.

WE love mornings—gay, liltting mornings that are filled to the brim with news—and our special enthusiasm for this particular morning involves its variety of pleasant things that have happened or are down in our little red book for future reference.

We were delighted to see the Edees—Lt. and Mrs. James P.—who are in town from Savannah, Ga., where Lt. Edee is stationed at Hunter Field, for a visit with Mrs. Edee's mother, Mrs. Robert L. Ferguson, and Mr. Ferguson. Lt. Edee, who is on the Judge Advocate's staff at Hunter, and Mrs. Edee also are visiting the Air Force officer's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Edee.

THEN we learned that Dr. and Mrs. S. C. Dickinson of Eaton, Colo., have come to spend several days as the guests of their son and daughter-in-law, the Rev. and Mrs. S. C. Dickinson.

There will be those who will remember that Mrs. S. C. Dickinson, Sr., is the former Winifred Kelly of Lincoln.

AND from Burlingame, Calif., last Wednesday came Mr. and Mrs.

Miss Libby Russell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard A. Russell of Lincoln, Kappa Kappa Gamma—and her fiance, Larry Dunning, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Dunning of Rio Grande City, Tex., gave us the impression that they were going for a spin in the convertible—top down, of course. Mr. Dunning is a junior at Nebraska and a member of Sigma Chi.

Perhaps Miss Marilyn Stanley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Stanley of Omaha, and Kappa Alpha Theta at Nebraska, and her fiance—Larry Franzen of Holdrege, Phi Kappa Psi, have plans to discuss, or maybe they find that cup of coffee a pleasant interlude between treks to classes.

Fortunately for Miss Shirley Marshall, Delta Delta Delta at Nebraska and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Marshall, her free time from classes and that of her fiance, Larry Wilson, Alpha Tau Omega, coincide—How better to spend the time than a stroll through the park—and pause at the playground for a good, high swing.

Tau Omega, coincide—How better to spend the time than a stroll through the park—and pause at the playground for a good, high swing.

AROUND THE TOWN

ON THE potential guest list is Mrs. John W. White of Long Beach, Calif., who will be arriving on Monday, May 23, for an extended visit with her son-in-law and daughter, Judge and Mrs. John W. Deleahant.

Mrs. White will be in Lincoln for her 93rd birthday anniversary which she will celebrate in August.

JUST learned that names have been added to the guest list for the Holiday Club supper dance—Mr. and Mrs. George Healey are to be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Prucha, and Mrs. Dorothy Teal Ogdan will have as her guests, her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Steb Teal of Burlingame, Calif.

IT would seem that Mothers' Day celebrations started early this season—On Friday evening, for instance, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Cather, Jr., had a Mothers' Day affair at their home when they entertained at a patio party which honored Mr. Cather's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Cather. Included in the family guest list were Mr. and Mrs.

SOMEONE told us that Mrs. Allen Barnard, who before her marriage on April 29 was Miss Betty Ann Vogt, was complimented at a dessert supper and gadget shower on Wednesday evening when Miss Mimi Gordon was hostess at her home.

Mr. and Mrs. Barnard now are settled in their new home at 1865 High St.

Regardless of the flowers that bloom in the spring—especially in May—Miss Virginia Bauer, Sigma Nu, must trudge to class—it's no hardship for Miss Bauer, however—look who is toting all of the books.

Friday Evening Service

MRS. FRED L. HERRMANN

Miss Carolyn Stock, Murdock, and Miss Sue Colbert, Wabash, the bridesmaids. Designed in the princess mode, the long, full-skirted frocks had fitted bodices, which suggested the empire contour and which were framed with scallops at the shoulder line. Their mitts and calots reflected the tone of their frocks, and they carried bouquets of feathered carnations in the cerise shade. Marcia Buck of Murdock was the flower girl, and Donald Riemer, Palmyra, carried the ring.

Hugh Helgenberger of North Bend served Mr. Herrmann as best man, and seating the guests were Roger Kinney and Richard Clark, both of Alvo.

For her wedding the bride chose a gown of imported French, hand-clipped lace and tulle over satin. The long-sleeved lace bodice was snugly fitted and designed with a yoke of tulle which created a high neckline touched with a delicate collar of lace. The extremely bouffant skirt was fashioned of two V-shaped tiers of lace which revealed a deep pleated tulle flounce that drifted into a whisper train. A heart-shaped cap of lace and net ruffles, ornamented with seed pearls, held to the head her veil of imported illusion, and she carried a cascade bouquet of feathered white carnations and tufts of net.

There always is considerable interest in the arrival of Mrs. John G. Maher of New York, formerly of Lincoln, who makes an occasional trip to Lincoln to visit her mother, Mrs. E. B. Cowles, and her sister, Miss Elizabeth Tierney.

But when Mrs. Maher arrived a few days ago there was added interest, for with Mrs. Maher was her delightful young granddaughter, Lilli Vergotti whose mother, as everyone knows, is the former Catherine Maher.

Mrs. Maher and Lilli, so we hear, will be leaving today to return to their home in Yonkers, N.Y.

Florence Chadwick On Swimming:

'As Long As It's Fun I'll Keep On'

By RON GIBSON

Star Sports Staff Member

"As long as it's fun, I'll keep on swimming."

That's the attitude Florence Chadwick, world famous English Channel swimmer, takes toward her profession. And what Miss Chadwick calls fun consists of:

Swimming six days a week.

Swimming at least three hours each of those six days.

Spending some of those hours tied by a rope to the end of a swimming pool, not going anywhere but building up endurance for jaunts through miles and miles of choppy water.

Miss Chadwick arrived in Lincoln Friday and will remain here through Sunday. She is touring to promote swimwear.

And although she calls her promotion job her "bread and butter," she has become famous through her attempts — successful and unsuccessful — to swim various long distances.

She set a record for the English Channel swim in 1950, covering the distance in 13 hours and 20 minutes. In 1951 she swam the Channel from England to France and became the only girl ever to swim this difficult route.

In 1952 she set a record for the Catalina Channel swim, becoming the Lake Ontario record, as her top contender and she would like to.

She has no idea of quitting — "as long as it's fun." Her current plans include another England-to-

Sea record.

Miss Chadwick considers Marilyn Bell, the young girl who holds the Lake Ontario record, as her top contender and she would like to.

She would also like to try the Juan deFuca Strait in Victoria, B.C. again. It was one stretch which conquered her. And she would like to try Lake Ontario, possibly in a race.

Boston Is Defeated 6-0 By Turley's Two-Hitter

BOSTON (AP) — Bob Turley, New York's rifle-armed righthander, struck out 13 batters and gave up two hits Friday as he shut out the Boston Red Sox 6-0 for his fifth straight victory.

Jim Piersal's solid single in the sixth inning and Bill Klaus' infield roller to shortstop which was scored a hit with two out in the ninth were the only Boston blows.

Turley snapped a fast ball past pinch hitter Sam Mele for the final out that spelled his fifth complete game.

Turley last week had a one-hitter against Chicago with Sherm Lollar getting the only safety.

Meanwhile, Turley's teammates made the most of seven hits off three Sox hurlers, Frank Sullivan, Russ Kentner and George Susce, including home runs by Mickey Mantle and Bill Hunter.

Piersal's smash to center field with two out in the sixth broke the tension when it appeared Turley was on his way to the first American League no-hitter since Alva (Bobo) Holloman beat Philadelphia for the old St. Louis Browns 6-0, May 6, 1953.

The hit by Klaus was a close call at first on Hunter's throw to Joe Collins.

Turley used 151 pitches as he gave up five walks and hit one batsman. Boston left nine men on base.

The victory was Turley's second this year over the Sox who last Sunday were the victims of a one-hitter by Cleveland's Bob Feller.

Hunter's two-run homer in the eighth inning merely added insurance for Turley.

Mantle got the Yankees started with his home run into the Sox bullpen in right field just beyond the glove of the leaping Jackie Jensen in the first inning. It was Mantle's fifth of the season.

BALTIMORE (AP) — Washington defeated Baltimore, 2-1, Friday in a game protested by both Manager Paul Richards of the Orioles and Manager Chuck Dressen of the Senators. Dean Stone held Baltimore to seven hits in edging Saul Rogovin in a mound duel.

Both manager's protests stemmed from interference plays. Dressen protested after Mickey Vernon doubled to start the sixth inning. Busby lifted a pop fly halfway down the first base line.

BAERING DOWN ON THE NEWS

By Arthur 'Bugs' Baer

If Sam Rayburn never lives to see the back of his neck he has had the greatest honor that can be inflicted on a man.

There were some good speeches at the Byrnes dinner, but nobody can rip the calico like Harry Truman. He put in a shill for Sam that rattled the tapped telephones for miles around.

The two smorgasbords the same night meant the Mason-Dixon Line is still a solid partition. The Southern Busters not only don't want to sit down with the Northern Demos but they don't eat pie-to-knife or bib-to-neck.

What the wayward Busters of the cotton-chopping ballywicks proved is they have enough money to pick out their own tunes in the automat slots.

We assure you with the most solemn statistics that while the Democrats were in office no Republican had a stack of anything but autumn leaves.

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add three. The result is your key number. Start at the top left-hand corner of the grid and count every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message letter under the checked figures given you.
